Passengers May Get Off Boat Today

Ship Captain Stops Short for Another Parley On Actions

Bulletin

BRASILIA, Brazil (P)—Capt. Henrique Galvao messaged President Janio Quadros today that he has decided to sail the captive Portuguese liner Santa Maria into the port of Recife.

RECIFE, Brazil (AP)—The Santa Maria headed in from the South Atlantic toward Recife with her captive passengers today, but stopped short of the dock for another parley to determine future action.

A U.S. Navy spokesman announced this development as President Janio Quadros met with his cabinet in Brasilia, 1,000 miles to the southwest, to decide what to do about the hijacked ship.

As for the rebels themselves, Quadros sent assurances of political asylum to their chief, Capt. Henrique Galvao. He promised to do anything more that existing laws permit.

Quadros' message did not measure up completely to Galvao's request to unload passengers, refuel and return to sea to continue his fight against the dictatorial regime in Portugal.

The new chief executive, inaugurated Tuesday, radioed felicitations to Galvao and recalled a meeting they had several months ago in Caracas, Venezuela. It was in Caracas that Galvao plotted seizure of the $16.6 million Portuguese liner in hopes of starting to unseat Portugal's premier, Antonio Salazar.

Quadros showed concern for the passengers aboard, saying:

"We accompany with profound feelings the fortunes of the hundreds of passengers who find themselves under your guard and responsibility."

The U.S. Navy spokesman said Rear Adm. Allen E. Smith Jr., and Brazilian authorities conferred aboard the ship about landing of the passengers and the Santa Maria's future.

Officers of the U.S. destroyer Damato said the negotiations took place about three miles off the port, outside Brazilian territorial waters. The Santa Maria was standing still in the water under a noontime sun.

Gen. Humberto Delgado, exiled chief of the Portuguese revolutionary movement against Salazar, was in Recife. One report was that he had talked with Brazilian officials and then relayed Galvao a request to dock.

6 Americans Get 30 Year Prison Terms

HAVANA (AP)—Six American adventurers, who faced possible execution as conspirators against Fidel Castro's regime, have been sentenced to 30 years imprisonment.

The Americans were sentenced Tuesday, three days after their trial before a military tribunal. Castro himself reportedly had been weighing the verdict.

prison terms under Cuban law, were interpreted here as the Castro regime's reaction to President Kennedy's denunciation in his State of the Union message Monday of Communist influence in Cuba. Defense attorneys said they will appeal.

The Americans said they sailed to Cuba to help defend the Castro revolution. They are George R. Beck, 24, of Norton, Mass.; Tommy L. Baker, 28, of Dothan, Ala.; Donald Joe Green, 28, of Clover, S.C.; James E. Bean, 34, of Cedar Falls, N.C.; Alfred E. Gibson, 32, of Durham, N.C., and Leonard Louis Schmidt, 21, of Chicago.

Nine Feared Drowned

MILAN (AP)—Nine persons were feared drowned today and 36 were injured when a commuter bus bringing workers to their jobs in Milan plunged into nine feet of water in a roadside canal.

By noon six bodies had been recovered, some of them swept along for three miles by the swift waters of the canal.

Legislature Passes First Bills of 1961

Retired Judges Get Benefits for Rest Of Fiscal Year

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—The legislature passed its first bill of the 1961 session today—an emergency appropriation of $90,000 to pay retired judges' benefits for the rest of this fiscal year.

It whipped through the Senate without debate 24-0. The House passed the bill earlier and it now goes to Gov. John M. Dalton, who recommended quick action to replenish the depleted fund so retired judges could get their January checks.

The Senate Appropriations Committee will start work Monday on a 4½ million emergency fund bill to carry some other state agencies through the rest of the year ending June 30.

A bill offered by Sen. Noel Cox, R-Spokane, in the Senate would allow persons getting old assistance to receive a top of $80 a month instead of $65.

For the 76,230 single persons on the rolls, the total cost for two years would be an estimated $26,067,600 or a state share of $17,700,000.

JFK Makes Point Clear

Additional Funds May Be Called For

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has told Democratic leaders he will ask Congress for additional revenue to match any new spending requests that could be blamed for unbalancing the Eisenhower budget.

Kennedy has made it clear he feels former President Dwight D. Eisenhower left behind a budget that cannot be balanced without an unexpected upturn in the nation's economy.

The President was represented as being determined to make it clear that if there is a deficit in the year beginning July 1, the preceding Republican administration will have to take its share of the blame.

Kennedy told his party chief.

Back In Death Row Cell After A Hunger Strike

LANSING, Kan. (AP)—Perry Edward Smith, 31, is back in a death row cell at the Kansas Prison after abandoning an eight-month hunger strike.

Warden Tracy Hand said Smith has fed himself the last 10 days and now "is talking with everyone about everything."

Smith quit eating and talking May 24, after saying he would "beat the rope." His weight dropped from 162 pounds to 104. He was fed intravenously in the prison hospital at first but later began drinking liquid food. Smith now weighs 118.

Smith and Richard Eugene Hickock, 28, have been sentenced to hang for shooting four members of the Herbert Clutter family near Garden City in November of 1959.

Ben-Gurion Quits Post In Israeli

Stakes His Future On Getting Own Way In Affair

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (P)—Stubborn old David Ben-Gurion, one of the founding fathers of the Israeli republic, staked his political future today on getting his own way in the Lavon Affair.

President Izhak Ben-Zvi, accepting the 74-year-old patriarch's resignation as prime minister Tuesday, gave no immediate indication whether he would ask him to try and form a new government or call for new elections. Ben-Gurion's Cabinet will continue as a caretaker government.

Ben-Gurion, who has led the 13-year-old Jewish state for all but 1½ of its years—when he retired voluntarily—said he was going to take a leave of three or four weeks to do some reading and writing.

The veteran statesman has quit as prime minister seven times before—usually as a political maneuver—and always has bounced back on top.

He said in his letter of resignation that he had "no alternative" after failing to gain unanimous Cabinet support in his row with former Defense Minister Pinhas Lavon.

Israeli censorship has clouded the Lavon Affair but it apparently stems from the smashing of an Israeli spy ring in Egypt in 1954, when Lavon was defense minister. Lavon was accused of responsibility for what was termed a "security mishap" and was forced out of the Cabinet. He has been trying to clear himself ever since.

Samos II Circling The Globe

Communications Pioneer Vehicle Carries Out Job

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (AP)—Samos II is circling the globe every 95 minutes today on a pioneer mission which may lead to a whole system of United States electronic military scouts.

The ultimate goal of the program is to be able to make detailed photographs of any point on earth and thus detect a buildup by a potential foe.

The mission is so secret that the Air Force won't even confirm that the satellite, launched Tuesday, will radio pictures back to earth. The orbiting vehicle is equipped with cameras to photograph ground terrain and sensors to record electro-magnetic radiation.

It can be made to transmit information as it passes over stations where data can be reproduced, stored, integrated and interpreted by automatic display equipment.

Signals from Samos II were being picked up by tracking and telemetry stations at Vandenberg Air Force Base at Oahu, Hawaii and at Kodiak, Alaska.

All orbital data was being received at the Air Force Satellite Test Center in Sunnyvale, Calif., south of San Francisco.

Samos I, launched last October, failed to orbit.

No. 2 in the series roared aloft into a drizzly sky at 12:23 p. m. Tuesday and disappeared in a heavy overcast. Two hours later the Air Force said it had achieved polar orbit. Its path carries the satellite at altitudes ranging from 300 to 350 miles.

Hits Target 4,000 Miles Away In Atlantic Ocean

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A Minuteman missile, America's hope for a pushbutton war weapon, scored an amazing success on its first test flight today.

A jubilant Air Force reported 20 minutes after the 11 a.m. EST launching that all three stages had fired successfully and that the rocket had landed on target in the south Atlantic Ocean, more than 4,000 miles away.

The Air Force had gone all out on the initial firing of this second generation intercontinental range missile, which will prow the countryside on hard-to-find railroad tracks, or stands poised in hardened underground holes, ready for firing on instant notice.

General Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, called the success "one of the most significant steps this nation has ever taken toward gaining intercontinental missile supremacy in the critical years just ahead."

Never before had so many rocket components been tested on a first launching here. All three solid fuel stages, the guidance system and nose cone were tested today. The distance covered was just 2,000 miles short of the intended operational range of 6,300 miles.

This was the first time that all stages of a military rocket were manufactured by different contractors. Thiokol made the first stage, Aerojet the second and Hercules the third. Boeing Aircraft Co., is assembly and test manager.

"Anything beyond the first stage will be strictly a bonus," a project official said. "We decided to go for broke on the first launch because success would cut the test program by several months."

On Cutback of Bases

Hornet Nest Seen In Kennedy Order

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's order for a survey looking to "elimination of obsolete bases" of the armed forces can stir up hornet nests both at home and abroad.

The President's brief reference to the matter was in his State of the Union message. He did not differentiate between domestic and overseas bases, apparently leaving that to the Defense Department.

Even though new weapons or strategy may dictate the closing of bases, local communities which have received economic support from operation of the bases are hard to convince. They also have spokesmen in Congress.

Overseas, opinion can be divided. Some may look upon an American missile or air base as defense for the area. Others may—and often do—contend that bases may attract enemy rockets or bombers. And, as in the United States, there also is the matter of additional income for the community.

Actually, the process of trimming down the big network of Air Force, Navy and Army bases was under way before Kennedy ordered it included in the broad study.

During a six-month period ending last December, 30 major active bases were made standby or caretaker bases, reducing a June total of 772.

The rate of deactivation had been stepped up. In June, 1958, there were 840 bases at home and overseas. A year later there were 799.

In addition to those closed during the past half year, others have been put on schedule for future closing. These include planned shutdowns of such major air force facilities as Mitchell Air Force Base, N.Y.; Chennault at Lake Charles, La., and MacDill, in Florida. Mitchell is to close by next June, the latter two by June, 1962. Activities at a number of other bases are being reduced.

The Air Force said a factor in the closings was transition from manned aircraft to a mixed force of missiles and manned systems. Another is that bombers fly farther nowadays.

Space Chimp Is Cheerful After Ride

Go-ahead Is Given For Man's First Journey Into Space

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Winding up a space flight with a chipper, cheerful handshake, a chimpanzee called Ham today signalled a go-ahead for man to enter space safely.

Ham is due back this afternoon to this rocket space port—which he left mightily abruptly Tuesday atop a Redstone rocket.

The largest animal ever sent aloft, Ham's trip 155 miles high and 420 miles southeast into the Atlantic into the rescuing hands of the U.S. Navy carried several main significances:

1. It indicates manned space flight is feasible. An American astronaut is scheduled this spring to duplicate Ham's daring flight.
2. The Soviets appear likely to win the race to be first to orbit a man around the earth.
3. A very slight mis-firing in the rocket system hurling out Ham's capsule may well require further tests with or without a chimp aboard before a man goes up. But this also produced valuable dividends.

4. Ham himself is reported in excellent shape, a smart 37 pounds of amiability.

Plucked from the sea by a helicopter from the USS Donne, he shook hands with the veterinarian greeting him when his one-ton space capsule was unlocked three hours after launching.

After a medical checkup, Ham drew a bonus of a banana and a bit more apple on top of his scientifically prescribed menu.

His flight was one of graduated steps in a National Aeronautics and Space Administration program hopefully intended to put an American astronaut into several round trips about the earth in 1961.

In a big first step, Ham twice felt the crushing weight of increased gravity. Taking off, he weighed seven times more than on earth, and on coming down at a 5,000-mile per hour clip into the atmosphere was subjected to forces 12 times normal gravity.

2 Sedalians Named To A Commission

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. John M. Dalton appointed a 10-member state senatorial redistricting commission today, five from each party.

Under the 1945 constitution, the commission must re-align Missouri's 34 senatorial districts within six months to conform with 1960 census figures.

If the commission fails to act, the senators to be elected in 1962 must run at large.

The governor picked the commission from a list of 10 Democratic and 10 Republican nominees submitted by the state party chairmen. Here are his selections: Democrats—Henry Salveteer, Sedalia lawyer; James W. Farley, Farley lawyer, banker and former state representative; Charles L. Blanton, Sikeston editor and former president of the Missouri Press Association; James E. Crowe, former St. Louis city counselor; Edward D. Weakley, St. Louis County lawyer.

Republicans—W. A. Schien, former owner of Schien Truck Line and Schien Insurance Agency, Sedalia; Fred H. Maughmer Jr., St. Joseph lawyer; former Sen. Harry E. Hatcher of Granby; former Sen. Meredith Garten, Pierce City newspaperman and a delegate to the convention which drafted the redistricting plan; Mayor Curtis J. Tindel of Cabool, former state representative.

Sears Catalog Store to Mark An Anniversary

The Seventy-Fifth Anniversary of Sears-Robuck and Company will be celebrated at the local catalog sales store Friday night with an open house. The huge Sears chain all started in 1886 when Dick Sears, a 23 year old station agent for the Minneapolis & St. Louis Railroad at North Redwood, Minn., held an unorded shipment of C.O.D. watches which a local jeweler refused to accept.

Instead of sending them back, Sears made a deal with the wholesaler.

He saturated North Redwood with cut-rate watches, sold watches to incoming train crews, swapped them with Indians for venison.

Sears soon quit his job with the railroad and issued his first catalog, 50 pages of "fully guaranteed" watches.

Alvah Curtis Roebuck joined forces with young Sears and was soon given a third interest in the business. From this humble beginning, Sears-Robuck distributes more than fifty million of their seven general catalogs annually. The greatest number of their stockholders are employees of the company.

Miss Rose Ann Frerking, daughter of Mrs. Elmer H. Frerking, Concordia, and Mr. David Meyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Meyers, Kansas City, were united in marriage Jan. 8 in a double ring ceremony at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Concordia, by the Rev. O. E. Heilman.

Mr. Arthur Fliege, organist, played traditional wedding music while the guests were being seated and accompanied Miss Beverly Hemme, who sang "O Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Tyrus Frerking, wore a gown of white tulle and lace. The lace covered fitted bodice featured a Sabrina neckline accented with sequins and seed pearls. The traditional long lace sleeves extended to a point over the hands. The voluminous skirt was ballerina length and was lace covered in a pointed effect under which extended ruffles of white net. Steps Taken To Prevent Grain Moving

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The federal government has taken steps to stop removal of grain from five government - bonded warehouses by angry farmers and to determine the financial position of the firm which operates the warehouses.

U. S. Dist. Judge Roy W. Harper Tuesday issued a temporary restraining order against further withdrawal of grain or other assets from the Federal Grain Co. Inc., of Sikeston, Mo.

The judge appointed a receiver to hold the assets for the government.

U. S. Attorney William H. Webster petitioned for the restraining order and the receiver on behalf of the Commodity Credit Corp. After it was learned that farmers had allegedly carried off 8,000 to 9,000 bushels of grain from one of the warehouses at Vanduser, Mo., Monday.

The farmers were quoted as saying they had not been paid for their grain in storage and were unable to cash checks issued to them by the firm.

Webster said in his petition that the firm has unpaid checks outstanding totaling $235,000 and accounts payable outstanding of more than $300,000, primarily owed to farmers and other creditors.

He said the firm's bank balance was 28 cents.

The U. S. attorney said "a few of these farmers took the law into their own hands at the expense of the firm's creditors, one of which is the United States government. The firm has about 78,000 bushels of soybeans pledged to the government and the farmers have been raiding some of that grain."

Federal Grain Co. operates warehouses and elevators in Vanduser, Morley, Bell City and Diehlstadt in Missouri and Olive Branch, Ill. A hearing on the case was scheduled for Feb. 8 at Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Police said the fight occurred shortly after Brooks was released from a police station, where he had been held four hours for drunkenness.

Walker related in a signed statement that the fight started when he rejected Brooks' request that Walker give Brooks a ride to a bus station.

Rocky Asks Big Budget In New York

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller presented today a record, $2.4-billion budget that called for additional state spending of $212 million, including big increases for education, highways, state-employee salaries and medical care for the aged.

The Republican governor's mid-term budget listed higher costs in most other areas of government. But he proposed no new taxes and estimated the state would end fiscal 1961-62 with a surplus of $5 million.

"This budget is based on the assumption that the state economy will function at a relatively high level in 1961," the governor said.

He also told the legislature that his spending program had been "framed in a mood of cautious optimism" and "we must always be prepared to act quickly if signs of economic trouble appear."

Rockefeller called for spending $958 million on education, an increase of nearly $112 million over this year. His education proposals included funds to launch a long-discussed expansion of higher education, including tuition grants to students at private colleges and enlargement of the state university.

The higher-education moves are designed to meet what the governor termed an educational crisis brought on by a shortage of college space and a rising population of college-age youth.

The governor, who has announced he will seek re-election next year, opened his 15,000-word message with a defense of his 1959 fiscal program, which involved record tax increases and is still the subject of political controversy.

He said the 1959 program was needed to "rescue New York State from the most serious fiscal situation it had faced in more than a generation. It is a great pleasure to know that (it) is in a firm financial condition."

"She seems very happy," the superior said. "She appears to adapt herself quickly to our way of life."

Yvonne is 26 and has been trained as a nurse. Her sister Emilie was a postulant at the time of her death in 1954. Another of the quintuplets, Marie, entered and left a convent twice without taking final vows. She and the other two quints are now married and Marie has a baby girl.

THE ECONOMIC REPORT—As one of the last acts of his administration, President Eisenhower has reported on the economic situation of the nation. Chart above shows the record for the last four years and reveals that the Gross National Product passed the half-trillion mark in 1960 for the first time in history. GNP is the total value of all goods and services produced in the country. "Final purchases" represents the sum of the nation's expenditures on goods and services. Chart shows that buying continued strong at the end of the year while GNP leveled off. Investments in business inventories declined throughout the year.

Traffic Plan To Assembly In Five Bills

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov. John M. Dalton's traffic safety program went before the Legislature today in the form of five bills introduced by Sen. Omer H. Avery D-Troy.

They included a point system to penalize bad drivers and reward good ones, mandatory safety inspection for cars and trucks, a system of chemical tests to determine whether a driver is drunk, making the present speed law permanent instead of letting it expire Sept. 1 and setting up a one-year jail sentence for driving with a suspended or revoked license.

The governor has labeled traffic safety one of the biggest problems facing the state. He has told the legislature it must start this year on a program to halt highway slaughter.

Most of his program was recommended two years ago by a special House-Senate committee but the bills were defeated in the 1959 session.

The motor vehicle inspection system would be administered by the highway patrol. The patrol would license garages to make the inspections for a fee of 75 cents to $1.25 with 25 cents going to the state.

Before a car owner could get his annual registration he would have to have a windshield sticker showing his vehicle had safe brakes, lights, steering, horn, mirror, windshield wipers and so on. If repairs were needed the owner could get them done anywhere.

Under the test for drunken driving, the degree of intoxication would be determined by chemical tests of the blood, breath, saliva or urine. If the blood had less than .05 of 1 per cent of alcohol, the driver would be deemed sober. A concentration of .15 of 1 per cent or more would be evidence of intoxication.

The point system would assess a series of penalties for moving violations, ranging from 2 points for violating a city speed ordinance, 4 points for violating the state speed law up to 12 points for leaving the scene of an accident involving an injury or drunken driving.

If a driver piled up 8 points in 18 months his license would be suspended 30 to 90 days. It would be revoked if he got 12 points in a year, 18 in two years or 24 in three years.

On reinstatement, the point total would be cut by 6 points. A year without a moving violation would be good for another 2 point credit. A second year would take off another 2 points and a third year would give a driver a clean slate.

No license would be issued to anyone convicted twice of drunken driving.

House Demos Begin Battle To Enact JFK Legislation

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST WASHINGTON (AP)—After scoring an important victory on enlargement of its Rules Committee, the House Democratic leadership digs in today for a long fight to enact President Kennedy's legislative program.

The fight probably will be a tough one, since Tuesday's victory for the Kennedy administration and Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas was won with only a five-vote margin.

The House voted 217 to 212 to back Rayburn's plan to enlarge the Rules Committee from 12 to 15 members, wresting committee control from a conservative coalition. Theoretically this puts liberal Democrats in control by an 8-7 edge.

The White House reported Kennedy was pleased with the outcome. Officially he had taken no direct part in the fight, but left no doubt that he favored the Rayburn plan.

Democrats slated to be tapped for membership on the committee were Reps. Carl Elliott of Alabama and B. F. Sisk of California, both of whom have voting records friendly to legislation expected to be advocated by the President.

Three normally conservative Republicans had the inside track for vacant GOP posts. They are H. Allen Smith of California, Elmer J. Hoffman of Illinois and Katharine St. George of New York.

The House vote, while nominally wresting Rules Committee control from the coalition, indicated that the coalition is a force that must be reckoned with on the House floor.

It found 22 Republicans joining 195 Democrats to uphold Rayburn, and 64 Democrats and 148 Republicans voting against him.

Technically, the loser was Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., of the Rules Committee, who directed the fight against what he called "packing" the committee.

But Smith took comfort from the fact that he still is chairman of the committee and will have a dominant voice in deciding when it meets and on what subjects.

House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and the assistant GOP leader, Rep. Leslie Arends of Illinois, strongly opposed the Rayburn plan. Halleck said many people "are afraid this resolution signals the collapse of all opposition to the attempted fulfillment" of Democratic platform promises.

For Rayburn, who had staked his prestige on the outcome, it

Film Makers Out to Sea On This One

EDITOR'S NOTE.—AP movie columnist Bob Thomas is in the South Seas for a look at movie-making in that tropic paradise Tahiti. There, MGM is doing a remake of the classic "Mutiny On the Bounty." The star, playing Fletcher Christian, is Marlon Brando. Following is the first of three articles: "Brando in Tahiti."

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

ABOARD H.M.S. BOUNTY, off Tahiti (AP)—Marlon Brando fastened a rubber band around his slightly graying locks to keep them from flying in the wind. "What a bore," said the actor, his hair grown long for his role as Fletcher Christian in "Mutiny On the Bounty."

Brando leaned against the rigging of the majestic three-master, anchored off Papeete under a leaden sky. A hundred film makers were waiting—at $23,000 the day—for sunshine that never came.

Except for his flapping hair, Brando seemed little concerned about the delay, nor did he appear happy that the film company would be returning to Hollywood early because of the rainy season.

The company took a chance that the rains would come late, but they didn't, and its members have begun heading home. Brando and crew will return when the rains end.

On the first day of shooting 10 weeks go, he remarked to director Carol Reed: "I'm sorry to see this day come. It just means one day sooner that we will be going back to the states."

He gazed at the Tahitian shore with its groves of curved-trunk cocoa palms and the green hills and purple peaks beyond. "I'll hate to leave," he said. "This is the first time in 10 years that I've been able to feel comfortable among people."

In Tahiti, Brando can walk the streets unnoticed. It's not because the people don't know who he is; many do. But Tahitians never bother their fellow man, and Brando has achieved an anonymity he hasn't known since he became a star.

Some may think it unusual for a man to be a movie star and want to remain anonymous. But then, as the world well knows, Brando is not the usual kind of star. Director Reed, who has an Englishman's restraint of expression, has said, "there is no more exciting, no greater actor in the world today." And he said it before a group of distinguished British actors appearing in "Mutiny."

As Brando relaxed aboard the Bounty, the talk turned to the recent, highly publicized marital split of one of his former co-stars.

"Imagine—talking about their personal affairs for print!" he said wonderingly. "These are intimate matters that concern themselves only, and yet they are sharing them with the world."

"I can't understand it. Nor can I understand how Tennessee Williams can go on Mike Wallace's TV show and tell everything about himself. Here is an intelligent, sensitive man who chooses to tell his own problems to the world. I wish someone would tell me why."

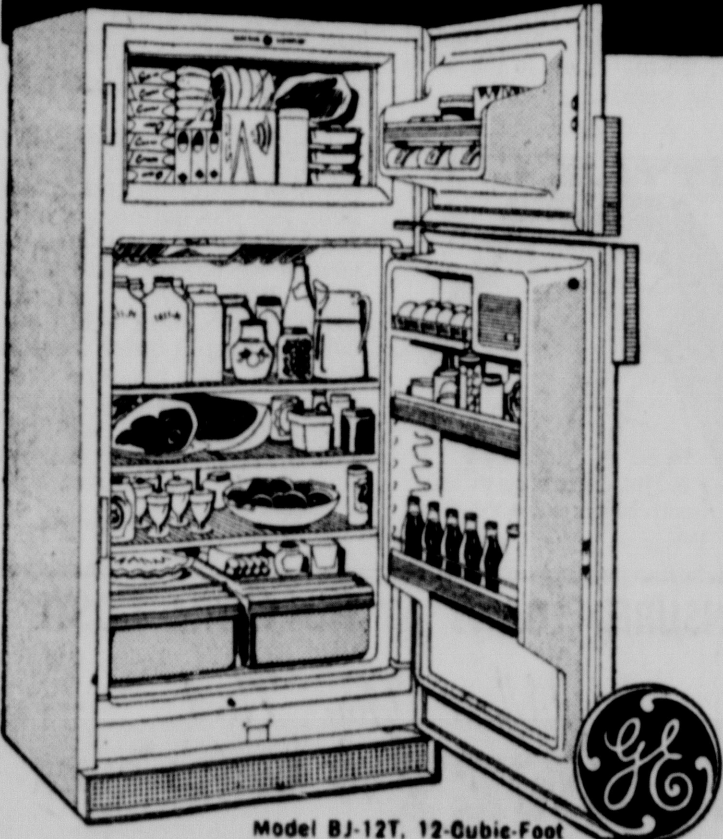

Impossible. Marlon barely tolerated publicity in the days when he was having fun playing the motorcycle-riding character. He passed that stage and became more serious about life. He grew bitter about press coverage of his wrangles with ex-wife Anna Kashfi. Now he has stringent rules. "I won't answer any personal questions and I won't read anything about myself," he has said. "If a friend starts to read something about me I stop him. It makes me physically ill."

Knowing his distaste for the spotlight, you can understand why Brando likes Tahiti. Tahiti also likes him. Tomorrow we'll find out how he lives here.

Question Effectiveness Of Gold Drain Measurer

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The real debate concerning our loss of gold isn't whether the drain with its strain on the dollar should be stopped—that's taken for granted—but whether the measures proposed will do the job.

That's the view of a growing number of financial observers who daily grow more vocal on the problem which President Kennedy posed in his news conference and has tackled in his State of the Union message.

The United States can halt the outflow of gold and bring its international financial payments into balance. That also is taken for granted.

But then you get into the real dispute.

At one extreme are those who say that the dollar can be defended—not alone by bringing the dollar's overseas outgo and income into balance—but only if it is also protected at home by stabilizing prices and putting and keeping the U. S. Treasury on a balanced diet. In other words, by licking inflation, which was the original culprit in weakening and threatening the status of the dollar.

At the other extreme are those who hold that the gold loss isn't serious yet, is nearing an end anyway from natural causes, and steps already taken to trim overseas spending will make its end certain.

In between are those who hold that the loss of gold in the last three years is indeed serious and must be stopped, that half-way measures won't do it, but that the dollar isn't in present danger as scare stories might indicate.

President Kennedy sums up the problem this way: The over-all deficit in our balance of payments with the rest of the world increased by nearly $11 billion in the last three years. And holders of dollars abroad (foreigners and Americans) converted some $5 billion of that into gold once held by the Treasury.

All bank economists heard from agree with the President that the dollar must be maintained at its present level, which means the gold price must be kept at $35 an ounce.

On bank economists, Dr. Marcus Nadler, consultant to the Hanover Bank of New York, holds only a "rectification of the balance of payments deficit will bring to an end the large outflow of gold. All other measures are only temporary and do not go to the roots of the problem."

But he insists that the U. S.

gold stock is still large enough to meet all the legitimate requirements of the country. He holds that gold no longer plays a significant role as a basis for domestic credit, but that its principal function now is to effect international payments.

Dr. Nadler's thesis is: "The dollar problem is an international one. It was caused by the efforts of the United States to help the other nations and to protect them against Soviet aggression. It must therefore be solved by international cooperation and agreement."

President Kennedy will have to be at pains to prevent the Russians from making improper propaganda uses of their release of the two RB-47 American fliers.

Already their official "news" organs are talking of the action as if it were a cold war concession that must now be matched by us.

This is an old Soviet game. You commit some act of wrongdoing. Then you correct it, and ask your adversaries that they treat the correction as a solid concession. The hope is, of course, that the world will lose sight of the fact that you are correcting something which you never should have done in the first place.

Kennedy made plain in announcing the fliers' release that he had given nothing in return at the outset, and implicit in his comment was the position that nothing would be given.

(Those lawmakers who later demanded to know whether he had yielded up anything to the Kremlin evidently had not bothered to read or hear what the President said.)

Among the things he said at the time was that Moscow had by its action removed a serious obstacle to improvement of U.S.-Soviet relations. But that is a far cry from saying we are now prepared to do, or have done something in return.

All that was accomplished was a slight betterment in the general diplomatic atmosphere. Whether real negotiations and real concessions on both sides will follow from this remains to be seen.

In his inaugural address Kennedy called on Khrushchev to show evidence of earnest intent to achieve genuine solution of such outstanding world problems as disarmament. He obviously does not intend to be taken in by fraudulent gestures.

But he and his new administration must remember that the world is always watching. And many peoples do not make proper distinction between real and phony concessions as they view the cold war from their distance.

Thus one task of the President and his information agencies is to tell and retell the true story of the released American fliers. Another, for him, is to state tirelessly to the Russians and all the world that we are ready and eager for real advance toward disarmament and peace.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Enthusiasm for Cuba Free University

DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON.—If the people of Latin America doubt the desire of the people of North America to be good neighbors they should read my mail regarding the proposed "Free University of Cuba" for exiled Cuban students and professors, to be expanded later into a "University of the Americas." The letters are written in the spirit of President Kennedy's inaugural plea, "Don't ask America what she can do for you, ask yourself what you can do for America."

Here is a cross section of the mail: Maj. Bert Decker, U. S. Air Force, White Birch, N. H.—"This may sound strictly military, but I can afford $25 per year for that which might help establish peace. Surely your persuasive pen can convince 20,000 other suckers to pledge a like amount to the Free University of Cuba. My check for $25 is enclosed. I pledge the same amount each year as long as I and the free university live. . . . P.S. The Free University of Cuba will need books for its library. Where do I send the ones I want to donate?"

Steve Rabin, Greensboro, N. C.—"I am just a high school student, but I have the feeling that American youth should be more united and better organized. Why not use this opportunity (for a Free University of Cuba) to give them a purpose. . . . I think that the idea of a university in exile as a beacon for the development of democracy and free thinking would appeal to the youth of the American continents. Youth should have a hand in making it come about."

Al Fiore, San Francisco—"Soviet Russia has long since established so-called free universities for African and other peoples she hopes to indoctrinate. Surely Americans must find it possible to found a Free University of Cuba. True liberty, freedom, justice, and honor are for export, as indeed are our democratic faith and ideals. The students and professors of such a university will be our ambassadors of peace and friendship. The university will in time form a "peace and freedom army" that will conquer hate, violence, strife, and enmity."

Marie F. Trippodi, Vandenberg AFB, Calif.—"After your suggestion for a 'Free University of Cuba' it crossed my mind perhaps McDill Air Force Base at Tampa, Fla., might be utilized, since it is to be de-activated very soon. Perhaps it could be utilized in the way as Bushnell General Hospital at Brigham City, Utah, when it was turned into a school for the Navajo Indians."

Robert Rosenbluth, Cook County Department of Public Aid, Chicago—"Your idea is very exciting. May I make one suggestion, namely that such a university be established in Ellis Island, N. Y. The buildings are now federally owned and unused. It would be very convenient for the faculty and of course, being near New York, has many cultural advantages. . . . Perhaps instead of calling it a Free University of Cuba, it should be called 'Freedom University' and have it maintained by the federal government for all foreign lands." George D. Gates, Washington, D. C.—"Ever since reading your article regarding a 'Free University of Cuba' I had intended to write you, but am in the midst of final exams in the Georgetown graduate school, but I have procrastinated long enough. Being a student, my means are limited. I have begun talking to other students and am trying to encourage them to write or drop in to see their congressmen."

Archie R. Murphy, National City, Calif.—"Count me in for any help that I can give. I wouldn't mind paying extra taxes for such a noble cause."

Anna Robin, Ojai, Calif.—"After retirement from the Chicago Public Schools I was privileged to work with Ukrainian refugees in an effort to upgrade employment among them. I know the humiliation, the back-breaking drudgery, the futile interviews, the undaunting courage to face one refusal after another that faced many of these brilliant men and women. Courage took on new significance."

"I also know that many projects were started by private initiative and small contributions. I am enclosing a tiny check for a Free University of Cuba asking that all teachers everywhere speak out to assure the temporarily displaced Cuban leaders there is work for them."

Marian W. Llanza, Boston, Mass.—"I feel this is an ideal way to answer the communists and want to donate my time in order to show that democracy does work. I wish to start immediately in forming a committee here in Boston to raise funds for the university."

That's just a cross section of many heart-warming letters showing how the American people rally to help their fellow men, how they believe the way to combat Castroism is not by name-calling but by filling up the vacuum now existing between the American and Cuban people by establishing a mecca of intellectual and cultural freedom.

Developments to date are: Sen. Karl Mundt, South Dakota Republican, and Rep. Dante Fascell, Florida Democrat, have introduced two fine resolutions backing the university, and authorizing President Kennedy to use educational and contingent funds for it. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Ribicoff has expressed his approval. It will take some more pushing, however, to get results.

When I wrote the original column proposing this university, it was not for the purpose of raising money. I am not supposed to raise money in this column, though tolerant editors have let me get away with it for certain causes such as the Friendship Train and the Clinton, Tenn., high school. However, this university should not be a government project alone. It should be born from the hearts, minds, and pocketbooks of all the people.

CAPE GIRARDEAU MISSOURIAN: A More Effective Whip.—Everyone concerned with highway safety will readily concede that one of the worst problems of the road is the drinking driver. He causes more than his share of accidents, and those he causes are likely to be fatal.

Laws for coping with drinking drivers, however, are sometimes inadequate. Or, if they are adequate, it is frequently difficult to get a conviction from a jury.

Sometimes the penalty is so stiff the jurors are reluctant to impose it. Even intoxicometer evidence is sometimes rejected by juries. New York State has come up with some laws which may go a long way toward solving this problem. It has set up a middle ground, known as "impaired by alcohol." Under this new law, a person whose ability to drive is impaired by alcohol is charged only with a traffic offense instead of a misdemeanor.

But the penalties are stiff. Conviction of the first offense brings a 60-day suspension of his driver's license; a second offense brings a 120-day suspension; the third results in revocation.

The definition of impairment is specific. If a driver is found to have an alcohol volume of .1 of 1 per cent in the blood on a chemical test taken within two hours after his arrest, his ability will be presumed to have been impaired.

This new law should go a long way toward obtaining more convictions in cases where a driver has been drinking.

Alfred Russel Wallace, British naturalist, first used the term "survival of the fittest" in 1858.

News Conferences May Become a Lobby

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's televised news conferences—with the second coming today—could become a tremendous lobby for him.

1. From coast to coast he will reach various groups affected by his programs and by so doing stimulate them into pressuring Congress for action.

2. He will, to a degree never achieved by any other president, keep himself in the public mind.

He could, of course, manufacture disaster by pulling some prize boners in national view. He seems confident that he won't.

Washington is full of lobbyists paid by pressure groups to work on Congress for or against something.

Presidents from time to time have done their own lobbying.

Presidents Roosevelt, Truman, Eisenhower took to the airways when they had an explanation to make or sought public support.

But these were only occasional performances in special situations.

True, Eisenhower's news conferences also were televised, but they were shown later and then only in fragments.

Kennedy, with live TV appearances at every news conference, could make his three predecessors' efforts on behalf of themselves look meager.

Kennedy won't have to make any appeal. His answers to reporters' questions will include his ideas, proposals and programs.

Since at any one conference he will cover a varied field, his answers will have special interest to various affected groups.

For example, his proposals on a medical care plan for the aged will get the acute attention of older people.

He doesn't have to look at them through the camera and say, "I wish you'd back me."

His statement of the proposal—and perhaps an indication he is having trouble getting Congress to go along—will be impetus enough for a lot of people to get after Congress.

From a political standpoint—

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

V. W. Gilbert and family moved from 918 West Third street to the property at 504 South Grand avenue, recently vacated by W. R. Courtney and family.

Miss Jane McEniry, a student at St. Mary's College, Leavenworth, Kansas, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. McEniry, of Dal-Whi-Mo Court. She had as her guest a school friend, Miss Phyllis Weber, of Olney, Ill.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Kemp Hieronymus, auctioneer, was the successful bidder for the first Missouri Centennial button, auctioned at the Chamber of Commerce by Mrs. E. F. Yancey. Bidding started at $5 and ran to $121, which sum Mr. Hieronymus paid. He will present the button to his daughter, Ann Elizabeth, whose maternal ancestors came to Missouri before the territory had been admitted as a state.

provided Kennedy doesn't make big blunders—the live TV news conferences should be of inestimable help to him.

He was a great unknown to most Americans when he began the presidential campaign. Vice President Richard M. Nixon was a widely known public figure with eight years to put himself in the public mind.

Nothing in the whole campaign did so much to shove Kennedy into the public consciousness as his TV debates with Nixon.

This public consciousness of him should increase beyond measure in four years of appearing weekly, more or less, on TV screens from coast to coast.

If he wants to run again in 1964, he'll have a firm foundation.

Look Before You Leap Into the Business Whirl

By FAYE HENLE

If ever you have baked a superb cake, made your tot a dreamy dress, or excelled in decorating, certainly someone must have suggested: "Why don't you go into business and make money?" Well, why don't you?

More women than ever are starting businesses of their own. And if you carefully research your state's department of commerce before setting forth on a new venture, your chances of success will be improved.

My state is unique. It offers such a service to women, exclusively, via the Women's Program of the State Department of Commerce. The program, headed by Deputy Commissioner of Commerce Guin Hall, is aided by a council of women who are leaders in businesses such as advertising, retailing and real estate.

If you live in New York State

you may avail yourself of the service; if you live elsewhere you may wish to ask your state's commerce department to help you along the indicated lines.

The New York program offers free individual consultations in person, by mail or phone, and holds periodic clinics addressed by experts in various fields. To be a success in business the experts stress you must:

Know your market and its needs. Know where, if necessary, to get trademarks, patents, copyrights.

Know how to determine both manufacturing costs and selling price.

Study the factors involved in determining whether the product or service you sell can return a profit.

Know your sources of materials, supplies, display materials, packaging.

Know newest developments in production methods.

Know where to get the financing you need and how to budget your business.

Know how to promote and advertise.

Study mail order techniques if these apply to your business.

Know the rules and regulations pertaining to manufacturing and marketing your product.

Beyond these generalities, the program offers specific advice on opening a shop, conducting a service business like catering or dress making, factors that determine the success of a food product or hand craft and on specialized operations such as running a garden supply store or resort gift shop.

Space Flying Chimpanzee Is From KC Suburb

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Dr. Deets Pickett of suburban Leawood said he supplied Ham, the chimpanzee that made Tuesday's space flight, to the Air Force.

Pickett has been obtaining chimpanzees for the Air Force several years. He said Ham was picked up at Pickett's compound in Yaounde, Cameroon, Africa, last year.

"Sometimes they pick them up in Africa and other times here," Pickett said Tuesday.

"Just four days ago an officer from Holloman Air Force Base in New Mexico picked up five here and is coming back in a couple weeks to get five more."

livestock producers.

Some adults still continue to look on representatives of local, state or the U. S. Public Health Services as if they were truant officers. Yet there are no more dedicated men and women in any branch of the public welfare. And none who should be made more welcome.

For it is partially through their combined efforts, for example, that each of us can motor from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts and from the Canadian to the Mexican borders without ever having to expose ourselves and our families to Greasy Spoon Restaurants, Sloppy Joe Taverns, Flea-bag overnight stops with filthy facilities.

Three reports that arrived in a single mail illustrate the wide range of public health officers. The first, from the New Hampshire Board of Health, announces proudly that Bang's disease, the equivalent of human brucellosis or undulant fever, has been completely eradicated in the State's livestock. It would be impossible to overestimate the magnitude of this achievement whose accomplishment has not, to my knowledge, been called to the public notice.

Not only does this point the way to elimination of a milk-borne disease that is difficult to diagnose, resistant to treatment and crippling to thousands of our people, but it also may provide an annual saving of $25,000,000 to

The second report comes from the North Carolina Health Board. As the result of a tuberculosis control program that has been actively pursued since 1945, the death rate from the White Plague has been reduced from 7.5 per 100,000 population to 4.6, between 1954 and 1959. This reduction of about 40 per cent has been paralleled by the reduction in the disease rate that fell from 33 to 24 per 100,000 population. Again, quite aside from what this accomplishment means in terms of human suffering and incapacitation, it points the way to reducing the national cost of tuberculosis that stands at the staggering annual figure of $725,052,000.

Against these positive achievements, made possible through public co-operation, is the alarming report by the Public Health Service's Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta, Ga. As the result of lack of public co-operation, the past three years have witnessed an increased incidence of infectious syphilis to alarming proportions, and this despite the fact that syphilis is far easier to prevent and cure than either brucellosis or tuberculosis.

The cities with the most shameful records of better than a 300 per cent increase in the past three years include New York, Washington, Miami, Newark, N. J., New Orleans, Oakland and Long Beach, Calif., and Seattle, Wash.

The Mature Parent

Don't Fret About Effect Of Your Acts on Child

MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

Some time ago you wrote about a mother whose girl wouldn't listen when she said to go to the store for her. You said that the mother went to the store herself and shamed the daughter so she started doing what she was told. I have tried this many times and my daughter doesn't feel any shame but just lets me do the things I tell her to do. A woman like you is dangerous to have writing in newspapers.

ANSWER: You must be feeling pretty discouraged about me and this daughter of yours.

Perhaps we can straighten out our misunderstanding.

It was not in my mind that we should shame a child by doing a chore that he has resisted doing. Let's return to the original situation I presented.

We want some oranges from the store, ask our daughter to get them; she pretends not to hear. So we put on our coat and go get them ourselves. But we do not go reproachfully, complaining, with any wish to shame the child at all.

Indeed, we don't care a whoop how the child feels about our action. We are taking it for ourselves. We are serving our wish for oranges because we simply respect our wishes.

So, free of all the sticky worry about what effect our action is going to have on the child, on our discipline and future control of her, we march off to the store a happy woman.

That's where our misunderstanding comes. We don't go off to the store drooping like a dying gladiator but HAPPY!

And return happy. Arriving home, we don't sulk or fuss. Quite the contrary. We come in with the oranges and say:

"What do you think? The Browns' puppies have their eyes open! Mrs. Brown says they're going to keep them all."

Because we were happy, we've made going to the store an interesting and enviable experience. Isn't the child going to want one like it? Of course she is.

You see, I wasn't thinking about our obligation to children in that column. I was thinking about obligation to ourselves. I was asking you to so respect your wishes that you could forget all about whether the child respects them or not.

Just 113 years ago Jan. 24, John Marshall looked into a creek in California and found gold. He was building a mill for John Sutter when his discovery started the California gold rush. Sutter almost had a good thing—but he couldn't keep it quiet. People swarmed over his land and panned his gold. Sutter got very little from the rich find and was finally given a pension by the legislature.

Focus on Health

Leftovers, Hot and Cold Workers Are Health Topics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ready-to-serve foods, and leftovers, hot and cold workers, school lunches and eyesight all have a focus on health.

To the Ice Box

It's best to pop your left-overs into the refrigerator as soon as possible, hot or not, researchers report. Notions that the food should cool first are false.

The idea probably came from days when ice was used to cool the ice box and hot foods raised the temperature of the box and melted the ice.

But new studies show that disease-producing bacteria can grow in food from 44 degrees to 114 degrees Fahrenheit. Cooking above 116 degrees kills the germs, and cooling to 42 degrees inhibits germ growth. Keeping foods, including pre-cooked, ready-to-serve types and vending machine foods, in the growth temperatures should be avoided.

School Lunch

How important is an adequate diet? A school lunch program offered by U.S. researchers in the highlands of Peru offers a clue.

After several years of adding up to 1,000 calories a day and needed vitamins to the almost completely vegetarian diet, researchers report weight gains dou-

Cincy Cats Back In MV Challenge

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati's Bearcats, without Oscar Robertson and with a new coach, have come back to once again challenge for a Missouri Valley Conference basketball championship that everyone thought was powerful Bradley's for the taking.

With sophomore Tom (Double T) Thacker leading the way and coach Ed Jucker calling the strategy, the bustling Bearcats whipped the third-ranked Braves from Bradley, 73-72, Tuesday night for their 10th straight victory and 15th in 18 games.

And just like that, it's a possible free-for-all in the talent-filled MVC with Cincinnati, written off after losing its first two games, only percentage points behind Bradley.

Thacker, a Robertson look-alike from Covington, Ky., scored 22 points in the upset, including a dunk shot with 8 seconds left that put away Bradley's second loss (both by one point) in 16 games. Most important it cut the Braves' MVC lead to almost nothing with Bradley on top with a 5-1 record and Cincinnati an eyelash back at 6-2.

It was the 45th straight triumph for Cincinnati at its fieldhouse, where it plays all but two or three of its home games each season—and the biggest of all for Jucker, who stepped into maybe the sizzling hot seat in college basketball when he moved up from assistant to head coach after George Smith waved farewell to Robertson last season and became athletic director.

The Bearcat bomb exploded into the feature of a Tuesday college program that also saw victories for second-ranked St. Bonaventure, fourth-ranked Duke, and fifth-ranked North Carolina and some key performances by such pretenders to the top ten as Providence, West Virginia, and St. Joseph's (Pa.).

Tom Stiller scored 41 points and soph Freddie Crawford 24 as St. Bonaventure, which plays Bradley in New York's Madison Square Garden on Thursday, routed Marquette 92-63 at Milwaukee for a 15-1 record and a six-game winning streak. The Bonnies, leading the nation in field goal accuracy, hit 54 per cent with Stiller, the No. 2 major school scorer with a 31.1 average, clicking on 62 per cent of his shots.

Duke, also 15-1, won its seventh straight Atlantic Coast Conference game, getting 31 points from Doug Kistler and 30 from soph Art Heyman in beating South Carolina 107-94. North Carolina (13-2), ran its winning streak to 11 and its ACC record to 6-0 in a 77-46 rout of Clemson as York Lares scored 21 points, Dick Kepley 19 and Doug Moe 18.

Providence (14-2) got 19 points from Johnny Egan and 15 from Jim Hadnot in winning its seventh straight, 80-64 over Brown, and sophomores Jim McCormick (26) and Rod Thorn (25) combined for 51 points as West Virginia (15-3) pushed its Southern Conference record to 9-1, whipping VMI 102-91. Vince Kempton's shot from the circle with three seconds left enabled St. Joseph's (Pa.) to nip Wake Forest 72-70 for its 13th victory in 16 tries.

Elsewhere, Maine pulled to within a half game of first-place Connecticut in the Yankee Conference, making the Uconners their eighth straight victims 74-55; Virginia Tech took over second place in the Southern Conference, beating the Citadel 116-91 as Chris Smith scored 29 points, Bob

First Round In St. Paul's Invitational

Higginsville's Huskers, the Knob Noster Panthers and the Concordia Orioles all won first round games in the St. Paul's Invitational Basketball Tournament played in Concordia Tuesday night.

Higginsville faced Hughesville's Wildcats in the first game of the evening and did some claw-trimming. Leading 35-27 at the half, the Huskers went calmly ahead to whip the 'Cats 64-52. Leading score-producers for Higginsville were Wiley with 13, Wood with 14 and Lewis with 16 points. Pushing the Hughesville offensive was Martin with a 24-point production, good for game scoring honors.

In the second contest, the Knob Noster Panthers dumped neighboring College High's Colts 60-52 after the game was tied most of the first half. At the end of the first quarter the Colts were still in there and fighting, but the fourth period was the decisive one for Knob Noster. Leading the Panthers were Galloway with 19 points and Sebastian with 15. College High's big guns were Pittman with 10 and Stewart with 11 points.

The third game saw Concordia's Orioles dump Corde's Bluejays 44-36 after a game which was close all the way. The Orioles, however, had men whose point contributions were higher than those of Corde, which proved the deciding factor.

In Thursday's game, St. Paul's meets Sweet Springs and Concordia is pitted against Higginsville.

Camdenton and Dixon Victors In Tournament

Camdenton defeated California, 76-43, and Dixon pulled a come-from-behind finish to beat Versailles, 62-61, in the first two Tuesday night games of the Eldon Tournament.

In the third game of the evening, host Eldon proved not so hospitable, defeating Jefferson City Helias, 57-47.

In the Camdenton-California game, nine Camdenton cagers got into the scoring column as the team had a comparatively easy time overcoming the somewhat subdued Pintos from California.

Laughlin with 19 and Green and Kramer with 18 apiece led the Camdenton scoring spree. High point man for California was Fletcher with 13.

The extremely close Dixon-Versailles clash saw Dixon come from behind in the last quarter to overcome a seven point Versailles lead, despite a fine scoring effort by Versailles' Tankersley and McMillin, who with 23 each tied for high point honors.

Top scorer for Dixon was Meiser with 20, followed by Goodman at 17 and Alexander at 14.

In the Eldon-Helias clash, things started out even in the first quarter 9-9, but Eldon built up a 27-19 lead at halftime. Eldon slumped a bit in the third period and Helias regained five points of the lead, but Eldon snapped back in the final stanza to outscore Helias, 19-12.

Eldon's Wood was the game's high point man with 19. Teammates Dinwiddie and Hlavacek tallied twelve each for second place team honors. For Helias, top scorer was Dulle with 14, followed closely by Rodeman with 13.

In Wednesday evening's action in the single elimination tournament, Eugene meets Iberia at 7, Owensville goes against Tusculumbia at 8:30, and the night's play winds up with Warsaw against the Jefferson City Jays at 10.

Last Year's Sport Thrill Is Outlined

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The place was Pittsburgh's Forbes Field; the time, Oct. 13, 1960—late afternoon on a hazy autumn day. The score was tied at 9-9 in the ninth inning of the seventh and final game of the World Series when Bill Mazeroski, a .273 hitter, strode to the plate clutching his bat in the manner of mighty Casey, determined to do or die.

Mazeroski did. He slammed Ralph Terry's second pitch high over the left field wall and the Pirates had won the game and the World Series from the New York Yankees.

If there was any more thrilling occasion in sports during 1960, the nation's sports writers and broadcasters hardly know about it. Voting in the annual Associated Press poll, 77 named Mazeroski's series-winning homer as the thrill of the year. Another 26 listed the final World Series game, including a series of exciting events that led up to the winning wallop.

Only 13 listed Floyd Patterson's fifth-round knockout of Ingemar Johansson to regain the world heavyweight boxing championship. Nine listed the pro football thriller between the Detroit Lions and Baltimore Colts.

Eight picked the Olympic games as the most thrilling event of 1960 and three individual performances in the summer games drew mention; seven votes went to the victory of the U.S. Olympic hockey team over the Soviet Union in the winter games at Squaw Valley, Calif. Arnold Palmer's tinging last-round play to win the Masters and U.S. Open golf championships drew six votes.

There were a few scattered votes for other exciting events, but in the final count the World Series finish drew more votes for thrill of the year than all the other events mentioned.

The 1960 World Series was a dramatic one all the way. First the Bucs went ahead, then the Yanks. Pittsburgh won twice to lead 3-2, then New York squared it with a crushing 12-0 victory.

In the final game the Pirates gained a 4-0 lead, lost it then forged ahead in the eighth inning when Hal Smith's three-run homer capped a five-run scoring burst. Then it was the Yanks turn and they scored twice in the ninth to make it 9-9 and set the stage for Mazeroski's final bit of drama.

Calls Trial For Alimony 'Nightmare'

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — "This is a nightmare," actor Cameron Mitchell said of the circumstances that are keeping him in Orange County jail under $50,000 bond because his former wife says he is delinquent in alimony payments.

Unless he can raise the bond he may lose the starring role in a 39-week television series called "The Beachcomber" being filmed here.

Mitchell, 42, failed in two efforts for freedom at hearings Tuesday, Circuit Judge Frank A. Smith said he could see no substantial guarantee the actor would remain here under jurisdiction of the court unless the high bond remained in effect.

"Why can't I talk?" Mitchell kept asking his attorneys during the hearing.

After the judge ended the hearing, Mitchell fell to his knees with hands clasped.

"Please your honor," he cried, "in the name of Jesus Christ—my father was a minister—let me talk, please. My very life is at stake."

Judge Smith ordered Mitchell taken from the courtroom.

The TV and movie actor apparently will remain in Orange County jail until March 6, when a hearing is scheduled on his wife's complaint, unless he raises the $50,000 bond.

One of Mitchell's attorneys, James Byrd of Orlando, said so far as he knows the actor "doesn't have enough to put up a $500 bond, much less $50,000."

Mitchell said he gave his wife everything when they separated 5½ years ago after 16 years of marriage.

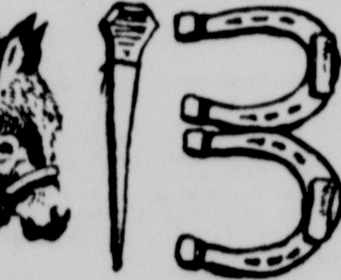

"I have nothing now," he told a reporter.

Jack Paar Scores Hit With Films

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — If Jack Paar really means it when he says he wants to quit his late evening TV program at the end of this year, he has a great future in the travel talk business.

Tuesday night, Jack had an hour of prime NBC time to show some amateur movies taken during his recent farflung travels. Some of the pictures were slightly out of focus. Sometimes Jack or his wife had a little trouble locating the subjects of the film. Often the sound track was a bit fuzzy.

Yet it was a fairly entertaining and well-paced program, by turns very funny, quietly amusing and often serious. Paar's narration as he escorted us along some well-trod tourist paths was loaded with bright and often illuminating comment.

We saw Paar clowning in about a dozen countries—but he showed us a lot of the countries too.

It was off-beat and in a quiet key. But I found it fairly enjoyable. I am normally both anti-home movies and anti-travel talks.

Bobby Darin's variety show, which preceded the Paar travelogue, was a "special" in the classic form: lots of music, singing and dance sequences, dramatic settings and a comedy monologue by a guest star—in this case, Bob Hope.

Darin is an ambitious young man with an attractive voice and the poise of Perry Como. His style seems a composite of Sinatra and Crosby with a dash of Donald O'Connor. And this isn't bad.

Singer Joanie Summers was around to add some feminine and high notes to the proceedings while Hope tossed off a series of Washington wise cracks, retreaded to fit a change in administration.

It was a lively show if not a memorable one.

The Friday night Jackie Gleason show is beginning to sound more like a soap opera than a prime-time evening entertainment. Will Jackie return to the cameras alone? What will happen to the comedians signed for a panel show called "You're In the Picture?"

The plot is still being written. Gleason was closeted with assorted CBS production brains all day Tuesday. Reports that leaked out varied. One said that Gleason would drop the idea of a game-playing panel show and convert the half hour into a conversational half hour with name guests. Another said he'd continue on solo. Still another said the panel show would go on.

Recommended tonight: Perry Como Show, NBC, 9-10—Harry Belafonte in one of his rare guest appearances.

Pilot Grove Lauds Men For Efforts

Pilot Grove citizenry through a statement from Mayor Martin Wesselman and the Fire Chief B. J. Wessing expressed their appreciation over assistance given early last Friday morning when two two-story business buildings were destroyed by fire.

The statement issued reads: "We, the Mayor, the Pilot Grove Fire Department, and patrons of Pilot Grove express our thanks to for their cooperation and assistance in fighting the fire that endangered the entire City of Pilot Grove.

"We particularly would like to express our thanks to the Tipton Fire Department and the Pettis County Fire Department for the prompt response to our call for help.

"We would be remiss in not expressing thanks to Whiteman Air Base who was ready to assist with fire fighting equipment and a contingent of men. The Base Fire Department was on 'stand by' in case they were needed.

"We owe our thanks to Dr. Vernon Friedrichs who stood by ready to administer aid to any who might have sustained injury, the American Red Cross who furnished coffee, cookies and doughnuts, Mrs. Betty Wolfe and the High School girls who stood in below zero weather serving the gallant men fighting the fire. Also Sheriff Emmett Fairfax and Deputy Jack Courts for coming to our assistance."

Mayor Wesselman had called other communities for assistance when the fire was raging in the two buildings, resulting in Tipton and the Pettis County departments the only two answering. Sheriff Fairfax and Deputy Courts went on the call to offer any assistance that they might be called upon to give.

Volunteer firemen of Pilot Grove battled the blaze to a standstill and kept it from spreading to Fight Over Two Inch Increase In Train Seats

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Are railroad commuters getting taller and wider? The city and the Pennsylvania and Reading railroads disagree on the answer.

The city wants 19-inch seats in 26 new commuter cars, the PRR and Reading think 17 inches is enough.

John A. Bailey, deputy city managing director, says the city feels commuters need the extra two inches to sit in comfort. The railroads, however, are concerned with the number of seats in each car. Fewer seats provide less revenue.

Human Relation Training Is Set For Policemen

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The police officer on the beat should be polite, patient, understanding. Furthermore, the city of Philadelphia feels policemen should be able to make quick decisions, determine whether a person is telling the truth, decide where a crime has been committed, and explain the law to people.

All of this necessitates, says Police Commissioner Albert N. Brown, an understanding of the dynamics of human personality—so his men are going to learn it. He announced a training program on human relations will be instituted this year for every police recruit.

$500 Settlement Out of Court In A $30,000 Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Attorneys say a $30,000 suit brought by movie executive Jack L. Warner against Judy Garland and her husband, Sid Luft, has been settled out of court for a reported $500.

The case was dropped from a Superior Court calendar Tuesday.

Warner's complaint alleged that Luft and the actress signed a promissory note for $30,000 in the summer of 1954.

The Lufts contended the money was used for a trip to Europe to promote the film, "A Star Is Born," and was to be repaid from their share of the movie's profits.

They charged that Warner's Studio computed costs improperly and no profit was shown.

College Asks Copies Of 'Public Art'

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — If you own a copy of Gilbert Seldes' "The Public Art" please contact Franklin and Marshall College officials. They'd like to borrow it.

The college is in a dither today, the opening of the second semester.

The student body of 1,300 had been assigned to read "The Public Art" and the school had ordered 450 copies. Officials said they were told only a few days ago by the New York publisher that the book was out of print.

They hurriedly looked around and were able to come up with 21 copies from book dealers in New York and Philadelphia. But this still is far too few, and it's too late to change the selection. Officials even contacted Seldes. He didn't know his book was out of print. He said he is now revising it.

One way of helping alleviate the problem, officials decided, was to chain the 21 available copies in the library. So they did. But it's still somewhat inconvenient. That's why they're asking for help.

Fails to Make Top Price on Tobacco

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Burlington tobacco this winter sold for the third highest price of all time, averaging more than 64 cents a pound in the eight-state belt.

But you couldn't prove it by H. L. Walker.

He sold a 68-pound basket of tobacco on the Lexington market for two cents a pound.

That comes to $1.36, but he had to pay $1.31 for hauling and warehouse storage.

He received a check for five cents.

Goodyear Says $80 Million Goes As Improvements

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., plans to spend $80 million on capital improvements this year, the company's chief executive officer said Tuesday night.

E. J. Thomas, chairman, said this is $5 million more than in 1960 and will bring the company's capital investment since 1955 to more than $500 million.

Thomas, speaking at the annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce, said Goodyear's new $20 million synthetic rubber plant in Beaumont—to be finished this fall—is a symbol of the company's faith in the future.

He said there are some spots of gloom around the country but he thinks there will be continued growth and expansion in 1961.

Snow Hard on Purse Of This Tiny Hamlet

LITITZ, Pa. (AP) — Not only have heavy snows been tough on the residents of this tiny hamlet, but they have caused a strain on the pursestrings of the borough council.

The council says it will have to increase the real estate tax from 15 to 16 mills to raise $4,000 extra for snow removal.

Two weeks ago when council introduced its budget, $3,700 was provided for snow removal. Nearly all this money has been spent.
